Director's Notes

So here we are at the final show of the famous “Eugene” trilogy. It has been one great ride, let me tell you. Eugene has grown before our very eyes and now he is off to Hollywood.

I would like to thank the following people for their generosity and support. Midway Upholstery on Downey Avenue for their help in fixing pop’s chair. They are a great Downey business and I suggest checking them out for all of your upholstery needs. A special thanks to Saywell Florist for helping to secure easels for our lobby display. Terry for running to IKEA at last minutes notice. I know, you will never go there again. Marsha from the DCLO for her generous assistance in securing essential costume pieces. I suggest you check out their season at The Downey Theater for all of your musical needs. George Redfox deserves a special thanks for his support of my program and all of the kids at Warren High School. A very special thanks to Ms. Swenson for the loan of two fabulous coats and vintage props.

Finally a special thanks goes out to all of the actor’s and technicians that make this production possible. It is a crazy thing to remember that most of the students have performed in three productions so far this year. That is a boat load of work and they handle it with professionalism, dedication, and passion. I feel their drive to perfection is perhaps the most essential ingredient in creating a truly wonderful night of theatre.

Enjoy the Show

Who's Who In The Cast

Brandon Madriz (Eugene) First of all I will like to thank Mr. Deichman for all the hard effort he has put into every single one of his productions. This will be the 5th play I do here at the Emerson theater and I'm absolutely shock of the amount of dedication Mr.D puts into this. Thank you D. I am a senior and 17 years young, for those of you who have watch the 2009-2010 plays you've seen me as: TOM from Night of the living dead, RICHARD from 3 Bags full, SCANLON from One Flew Over The Cuckoos Nest, and last but not least Buddy from The Diviners. I know low-key I'm a theater geek but that's what I want to do with my life! act!! hopefully you guys enjoy the show and follow Eugene's life story. I also would like to thank the people that support me: my parents, my 3 gorgeous sisters, my brother Javier which I thank for not missing any of my shows. and my friends/bros. Mari-ah, Rebecca, Gesabel, Anthony, Ryan, Leo etc. . I would also like to thank my cast that have given me the support I need I love you.

Naila Salguero (Blanche) - I am a senior at Warren High School. I really like anything with performing arts I love to sing, dance, and act. This will be my first year in Drama Production and I hope to give it my all because this is a great opportunity that some people don't get to be a part of and I'm very appreciative of that. In 10th grade I had my first Drama class with Ms. Wolfson, she really made the class very fun and entertaining. Then in my 2nd second semester I had Mrs. Courtney I learned more about the background of theatre and a little bit about Greek Mythology. In my junior year I had Mr. Deichman who taught me more about how important drama really is. I really hope this year will be the best.

Randy Davila (Jack) is very excited to be a part of another production here at The Emerson Theatre. This isn't his first role at The Emerson Theatre, some of his favorite roles were Dale Harding in One Flew Over The Cuckoos Nest and Mr. Cottingham in Three Bags Full. He would like to say thank you to Mr. Deichman for not only giving him the role but trusting him to do it as well. He would like to thank all his friends and family for their support, to everyone that came to watch the show, for everyone that helped make the set and for everything Mr. Deichman does for this department. Thank you and enjoy the show!

Juan Robles (Stanley) is a Senior this year here at Warren High. His acting debut was in 2009 as Johnny in Night of the Living Dead. His other rolls also include Melvin in The Diviners and as a grim reaper in O.O.B.E. for Night of One Acts. Juan is currently in Drama Production and performed in this years first installment of Neil Simon's trilogy, Brighton Beach Memoirs, as Stanley Jerome. Now, Juan is performing in the third and final installment, Broadway Bound, again as Stanley Jerome. This is Juan's final play here at Warren High, and plans for it to be his last. Juan Robles will be attending Cal Poly Pomona next year as a Computer Engineering major and plans to focus on his career path. He will always love drama and will never forget it, and even though Juan will no longer be performing in Warren High's Drama Productions he will still volunteer some time to help make the magic.

When Andres is not spending his time in the theatre he spends it with all of his drama family that he has grown to love over the year. He would like to thank his family and friends for coming to support the him and the show, especially his Mom for staying up with him throughout the night running lines. He'd also like to thank Mr. Deichman for ALL his time and dedication he puts into these productions and having to put up with all our teenage antics, he makes theatre real and teaches the hard work and love that you must have to put in such a wonderful show. ## Who's Who In The Cast

Lisa Luna (Kate) - "Acting is an intimate thing. You entrust your partner with something very private, a tremendous bond develops and that intimacy is like love."-Kevin Kline. I can't believe this is the last play I will ever perform in The Emerson Theatre. I remember auditioning for my first play and being so terrified that I went home convinced I had failed miserably. Yet miraculously, Mr. Deichman seemed to see something in me that I couldn't see myself. Playing Kate has been my most difficult character yet. Being Kate is a lot like having the life sucked out of you! If it wasn't for the encouragement from Mr. Deichman, and my cast, I wouldn't have been able to do it. I've learned along the way that Kate, and I have much in common, for instance, we love with all our hearts but harbor an explosive nature that can be a danger to those around us. This play is about real people, and I believe the audience will see a bit of themselves in all the characters. My time at Warren High School may be coming to an end, but the real adventure is just beginning. I hope to become a professional actress one day, and I will spend the rest of my life trying. I would like to thank my drama family for all their love, support, and teaching me not to take everything so seriously. Thanks to my friends and family for their love and support. Special thanks to my mom for helping me with lines, and being my rock when I didn't think I could hold it together. I would especially like to acknowledge Mr. Deichman for all his hours of hard work, and devotion to all our productions. You took a group of outcast teenagers, taught us how to bond, and work together like a real family. You taught us skill, and professionalism, which we will carry throughout our lives. Thanks for caring! Finally I would like to thank YOU, THE AUDIENCE. Without YOU we would be nothing. ENJOY BROADWAY BOUND!

MARC RAMIREZ:(Ben) is a junior at Warren High school. This is going to be his debut into the world of show business. Marc started with drama one his sophomore year. He got the idea from his cousin who had being doing drama for some time. Going through the basics of acting he caught interest in it. During his second year of drama he was approached by Deichman to see if he could play the part of Ben in the show. Marc was shocked, and honored at the same time. So for the weeks to follow, he would be working and putting his heart into doing a good job. Deichman, now this is one man that you don't want to be on his bad side. Marc has had him as a teacher since his freshmen year and it seems like he'll be having him for the entirety of his high school experience. Marc would like to thank him for the opportunity to be in the show. "For all those here to support me, I thank you, you are in my heart and I couldn't have done this without all of you in my life."

Andrew Puente– Castellanos (Eugene) Andrew fell in love with acting his freshmen year in his first ever drama class, but didn't see this love flourish until his first actual show two years later in Warren's Emerson Theater in a production of One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest. Now coming into his senior year, Andrew is extremely excited to be entering his first year of Drama production and working alongside all of the other great people in there with him.
